New York—WASHINGTON—Paris.

Thanksgiving Dinnerware, Chinaware and Glassware.

From our large and varied assortments the selection of the desired service for Thanksgiving will be easy of accomplishment. The remarkable diversity and particular beauty of our display will appeal to all who value distinctiveness in table equipment.

Open-stock Dinnerware.

Quality, design, coloring, are three strong factors that enter into the buying of every Dinner Service. When we go to the factory and the importers to choose our patterns we put our patrons' interest first—to find designs and decorations qualifying for their preference is our desire, and we never enter into agreement for a single selection until our convictions render this decision upon merit.

The display of open-stock dinnerware we now have on view is a confirmation of these principles of choice. The quality we know to be excellent the best and cheapest at the respective prices. The patterns and decorations, both in regard to quality of design and coloring, you can judge for yourself. Considered from every standpoint the display is the most advantageous we have ever presented.

The comprehensiveness of our stock is well illustrated through this price range of a few of the most important pieces of a set:

Plates, dozen.....	50c to $22.00	Cups and Saucers, doz.....	50c to $20.00
Platters, each.....	15c to $10.50	Sauce Dishes, dozen.....	45c to $8.00
Covered Dishes, each.....	65c to $10.00	Sauce Boats, each.....	20c to $7.75

Turkey Sets and Platters.

Substantial quality, promising extensive and satisfying service, with refinement and grace of design and attractive and suitable colors. All these features are possessed by this special service dinnerware for Thanksgiving, and the displays are exceptionally attractive and the prices remarkably reasonable.

SOCIETY

The President received the Russian Ambassador, Mr. George Bakmeteff, yesterday when the Ambassador called to pay his respects, and Mrs. Taft entertained Mrs. Bakmeteff at tea during the afternoon.

Mrs. Loudon, wife of the Minister of the Netherlands, gave a reception at the legation yesterday afternoon. This is the first time she has received her friends since her mourning, and the spacious drawing rooms were crowded with members of the diplomatic corps and her friends from the official and residential circles.

Mr. and Mrs. Melville E. Ingalls and Miss Gladys Ingalls have arrived in Washington from the Virginia Hot Springs and are occupying the residence, 1201 R Street, which they have leased for the winter.

Mrs. Winthrop Gray, of New York, has been visiting her sister, Mrs. Charles L. McCauley, at her residence in New Hampshire Avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Edson Bradley have arranged a "house warming" on December 2, at which the new addition to their Connecticut Avenue residence will be formally opened.

Miss Katherine Mimmack is the house guest of Mrs. Morris, in New York. Before returning to her home here, Miss Mimmack will visit friends in Tuxedo Park.

Miss Margaret Perin has gone to New York to visit Mrs. Charles Munn and her daughter, Miss Gladys Munn, who are spending several weeks at the Belmont before coming to Washington.

Mrs. Duncan McKim has sent out cards for a tea on Friday afternoon, November 23, after 4 o'clock.

Mr. and Mrs. Eldridge Jordan will give a small dance Thursday evening.

Mrs. M. B. Hatch gave a pretty and informal tea yesterday afternoon at her residence in Nineteenth Street for her house guests, Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Butler, of Detroit, Mich. Mrs. Hatch presided at the tea table, and Miss Helen Culham served the refreshments.

The marriage of Miss Helen Sousa, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Philip Sousa, and Mr. Hamilton Albert, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Stone Albert, of Washington, will take place, Tuesday afternoon, December 17, at 4 o'clock, at St. Thomas Church, New York City. The Rev. Dr. E. M. Stiles will officiate. Miss Sousa will have no attendants. Mr. Thomas Albert will be best man, and Mr. Henderson Smith and Mr. H. Osborn are to be the ushers. Only the relatives and a few intimate friends will be present at the ceremony. A small reception at the St. Regis will follow.

Mrs. George Lloyd Magruder and Miss Pauline Magruder have arrived in Savannah, Ga., where they will attend the wedding of Lieut. Burns Magruder and Miss Mary Blue Hull, on Friday. Dr. Magruder will join his wife and son tomorrow.

The members of Miss Hull's bridal party were entertained at luncheon yesterday by Miss Elizabeth Malone, and at dinner last night by Miss Sophie Melvin, who is one of the bridesmaids. Other parties for Miss Hull and Lieut. Magruder are to be Mrs. W. G. Barnwell's luncheon to-day, Miss Eliza Lamar Hull's dinner to-night, Mrs. Christine Nash's luncheon tomorrow, and Mrs. Stevens' dinner dance tomorrow night.

Miss Nana Hull will be her sister's maid of honor, and the bridesmaids will be Miss Pauline Magruder, of Washington, D. C.; Miss Sophie Melvin, Miss Eliza Malone, and Miss Eliza Lamar Hull. The groomsmen will be Mr. Frederick Dawson, of New York; Capt. Battle, of the U. S. Army; Mr. Keene, U. S. A.; Mr. Joseph Hull, Jr.; Mr. Dana Stevens, and Mr. H. C. Daniel. The best man will be Lieut. Edward Collier Little, U. S. N. The ceremony will be followed by a general reception.

Many of Mrs. Christian Hemmick's friends are interested in the announcement that her portrait of Whistler, the great painter, has been reproduced in the John Lane Company, who have used it in Mr. Conrad's book, and also as the cover to a "Life of Whistler." It is one of Mrs. Hemmick's best "sketch" portraits, and was made when she was living in the "Lath Quarters" in Paris, where Mr. Whistler was also a resident. It is the only portrait of the great painter and writer.

M. Lefebvre de la Boulaye, recently appointed second secretary of the French Embassy, has arrived in Washington, accompanied by Mrs. Lefebvre de la Boulaye and their children.

Mrs. David King has returned from a visit to Virginia, and is at the New Willard. She will go later to Newport, R. I.

One of the most beautiful weddings of the season took place last night when Miss Irma Stern, daughter of Rabbi Louis Stern and Mrs. Stern, and Mr. F. H. Kallisher, were married in the Eighth Street Temple, which was appropriately decorated for the occasion.

A delightful musical programme preceded the entrance of the bride party. Mr. Louis Atwater was the organist, and Mrs. Nellie Wilson Shiff-Cliff, the soprano, rendered several solos. Mr. Sol Minister was the violinist. The "Bridal Chorus" from "Lohengrin" sung by the Temple Quartet, Miss Pauline Whitaker, contralto, taking Miss Irma Stern's place in the quartet.

The bride, preceded by her bride party, entered the temple escorted by her father, Rabbi Stern. She wore an exquisite gown of white silk and lace.

THE NEW BOYS' SHOP

Second Floor of the Greater Palais Royal.

Variety

This New Shop never sees a visitor leave, because of not having the clothes to suit the fancy and the pocketbook of parents and their boys. It's because of the variety here.

Prices, $3.75 to $15

Suits and overcoats are here for every type of senior boy from 9 to 18 years and junior boys of 2½ to 12 years. Only reliable clothes—you'll note the least price is $3.75. We cannot pretend to offer reliable clothes at less. Can others?

Best at $5.00

The Suits with two pairs of Knickerbockers, in either double breasted or Norfolk styles, are greatly favored by boys of 7 to 18 years. The $5.00 Corduroy Suits, for boys of 7 to 17 years, are also unusually good at the price. The Overcoats at $5.00 are in styles for senior boys of 10 to 18 years, and junior boys of 2½ to 12 years.
